DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Specifically, applicant is required to elect one species of a practicing method of inhibiting skin lesions resulting from activation of proteinase-activated receptor-2 method of inhibiting skin lesions resulting from activation of proteinase- activated receptor-2, which comprises treating a site of inflammation prior to the formation of lesions with a therapeutically effective amount of composition containing a cromolyn compound to inhibit activation of said receptor by trypsin or tryptase disclosed in instant claim 1.

Species Election of a Composition containing Cromolyn Compound

In instant claim 1 and all dependent claims thereof (claims 2-4 and 6-10), the election of whether the cromolyn compound indicated to inhibit activation of said receptor via 1) trypsin or 2) tryptase is required.

Instant claim 3 requires a species election of one specific cromolyn compound consisting of 1) cromolyn sodium, 2) disodium cromolyn and 3) esters thereof. Applicant must elect one specific cromolyn compound.

Instant claim 4 and 5 require the election of a specifically named stratum corneum penetrating agent from a list consisting of 1) cationic quaternary ammonium salts, 2) cyclodextrin and 3) an arginine containing amino acid. Applicant must elect one specific penetrating agent.

Claims 1 and 3-5 are therefore currently generic to the above electable species.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include a proper identification of species that is elected consistent with this requirement, and a list of all claims readable thereon, including any claims that may be subsequently added. Any traverse that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered an improper and incomplete response unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, the Applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP§ 809.02 (a).

On the occasion Applicant traverses on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, Applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence may be used in a rejection under U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Election/Restrictions Proper

MPEP§ 809.02(d) states “[w]here only generic claims are presented, no restriction can be required except in those applications where the generic claims recite such a multiplicity of species that an unduly extensive and burdensome search is necessary.” In this instant, the claims recite such a multiplicity of species that an unduly extensive and burdensome search would be necessary if all of the claimed species were to be examined simultaneously.

The present claims are drawn to a practicing method of inhibiting skin lesions via a composition containing a cromolyn compound. The classification of some of the active agents is co-extensive and that the compounds as claimed are patently distinct and fully capable of supporting separate patents.

For the above reasons, an election of a single disclosed species for examination purposes is deemed necessary and proper.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Inventorship Notice

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
